

ALLOWANCE FOR OFFICERS.

Baker Approves Extras for Quarters for Those in Field.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Secretary Baker has approved the proposal now pending in Congress to make army officers in the field, either in the United States or in Europe, the same extra allowance for quarters they would receive otherwise when away from their posts.
The extra allowance will apply only to officers with dependents and will amount to increase in pay ranging from 18 per cent. for a second lieutenant to 25 per cent. for a colonel. The idea is to make provision for the dependents the officers leave behind them.

Use Coconut Oil
For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.
Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain malified coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless) is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.
Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two tea-spoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get malified coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advt.

PERKINS' DEFIANCE
MENACES HARMONY
AT G. O. P. MEETING

Penrose Votes May Decide Chairmanship Race Between Adams and Hays.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 11.—Developments today will determine whether the Republican National Committee can choose a Chairman peacefully. Although the committee does not meet in regular session until to-morrow, its members gathered to-day with the Republican Advisory and Campaign Committee in a special meeting called by Chairman William R. Wilcox. An attempt was to be made to unite the committees upon one of the candidates in order that one name might receive a unanimous vote.

The chief menace to this programme was George W. Perkins of New York, who let it be known he is unalterably opposed to the selection of John T.
Adams of Iowa, as Chairman. Perkins was prepared to make his fight against Adams at to-day's conference, which he will attend as a member of the Advisory Committee.

If the harmony appeal of the leaders is not effective Senator Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania may hold the key to the situation.

A statement issued on behalf of Mr. Adams claimed thirty-four votes for the Iowa out of a total of forty-eight expected to be cast.

Some leaders among those not pledged predicted that the Hays contingent would have to "get something on" Mr. Adams by midnight or his election would be certain. There was rather active circulation of charges that Adams opposed woman suffrage and that he was a pronounced pro-German before America declared war. As to the charges of pro-Germanism, Mr. Adams said:

"The Republican platform of 1916 absolutely represents my sentiments." and I have nothing to add to that. I have never taken a position on the suffrage question and have nothing to say."

Adams's strength was admitted by the backers of Will H. Hays of Indiana, the Iowa's chief opponent, but they insisted that Adams had not mustered sufficient votes to win without the votes expected to follow the leadership of Penrose.

The Pennsylvanian announced he had come to the meeting "with an open mind." Hays's partisans hoped that his support would swing to their candidate. They were, furthermore, hopeful of the aid of Perkins and his friends in the committee.

Perkins's first act upon his arrival here was to distribute copies of a statement in which he declared "all we Progressives ask is that a Republican be selected as Chairman of the National Committee who by his record and ability will at once give promise of being able to harmonize and organize."

Hope of the Adams leaders were based on eight proxies which his friends hold and the claim of practically the solid support of the "Y and South."

Among this morning's arrivals were United States Senator Calder of New York, who carried the proxy of Herbert Parsons, Committeeman from that State; Frank H. Hitchcock, a former Chairman of the National Committee, and T. Coleman Du Pont, Committeeman from Delaware.

In addition to a Chairman, the committee will elect a Treasurer, Sergeant-at-Arms and Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms. Fred W. Upham of Chicago appeared to have no serious opposition for the Treasurership. Edward Thayer of Greenfield, Ind., president, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms, probably will move up to fill the position made vacant by the death of Sergeant-at-Arms Will Stone of Baltimore. Guy Howard, Minneapolis, is slated to be Thayer's assistant.

The committee probably will pass resolutions to-morrow unqualifiedly supporting the war, but holding unreservedly the right to criticize the manner in which it may be conducted.

COAL LADEN SHIP ASHORE.

Aid Rushed to Steamer Carrying Fuel to New England.

The steamer Nae, carrying 3,000 tons of coal from New York to New Bedford to relieve the New England shortage, is ashore at Curryhunk, Mass. Wrecking crows are being rushed there in an effort to save the precious cargo.

A message received to-day by the James H. Elwell Company, No. 17 State Street, owners of the ship, from Capt.
T. A. Jorgensen, said the vessel struck a reef while passing through Buzzards Bay with a pilot. The ship's plates were ripped open and despite the use of the pumps she began to fill with water, and it was necessary to beach her.

The engines are now under water and the coal is in danger of being washed to the bottom of the sea. Even if it is saved the delay in its delivery will be costly at this critical time. Capt. Jorgensen reported that the weather is reasonably clear and the ship's crew of twenty-seven is in no danger. United States Coast Guard units are on the scene.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—The "all Wal-lumbus, originally set at $1,000,000 and and other parts of the country to $3-million, again will be increased to $7-million, according to announcement by the Supreme Committee of the Knights of Columbus, published to-day.

WHO'S WHO? TWO
CHIEF INSPECTORS
OF POLICE ON JOB

Enright, by Mayor's Command, Appoints Daly—Woods Out Dillon In.

New York's police force, which has grown callous to sensational since the advent of the Hyman regime at City Hall, got a new subject to talk about to-day when it found two men in charge of the Chief Inspector's office.

One was John Daly, appointed Acting Chief by Commissioner Enright at the peremptory command of the Mayor. The other was James E. Dillon, the Chief Inspector appointed by Arthur Woods. It remains to be seen what standing Dillon will have with the Hyman Administration. Since last December he has been on sick leave.

Dillon reported for duty this morning and went to work. But Daly was neither relieved nor transferred. Here was a situation which had the Department guessing and sent the reporters to Commissioner Enright, who was caught on the fly.

"I haven't a minute," said the Commissioner. "What is it?"
"The Chief Inspectorship," said a reporter. "Who's who?"
"I'll explain later," said Enright, and vanished. Some guessed he expected to see the Mayor and learn something.

Meanwhile, until a definite order is given, Dillon is the legal Chief Inspector, and Enright, who until a few weeks ago used to take orders from Dillon, is Dillon's boss.

The favorite guess among the police is that Dillon will not remain in his present position, the reason being that Daly seems to be the Mayor's choice.

Technically, Dillon was Chief Inspector during the twenty-three-day administration of Police Commissioner Hughes, although Dillon was at home all through that administration. Hughes made John O'Brien Acting Chief Inspector.

Police Commissioner Enright today put lieutenants back on desk duty at the detective branches throughout the city, abolishing a condition instituted by former Commissioner Woods as a result of the Ruth Cruger case.

After the discovery of Miss Cruger's body it developed that responsibility was divided at the station houses and finally was permitted in some cases. To obviate this Commissioner Woods ordered that a lieutenant at every detective branch give his time wholly to receiving visitors and giving careful attention to their business. The routine clerical work was attended to by policemen.

AUSTRALIANS RAID GERMAN
DEFENSES NEAR MESSINES

Prisoners Captured by Both British and French Forces on the Western Front.

LONDON, Feb. 11.—"A successful raid was carried out last night by Australian troops against German positions southeast of Messines," says today's official report. "In addition to other casualties inflicted upon the enemy twenty-eight prisoners were captured."

"On Saturday night a Belgian patrol successfully attacked a hostile post in the Merckem sector, killing the garrison and capturing a machine gun."

PARIS, Feb. 11.—"There was intermittent activity of the artillery on both sides during the night on the front north of the Aisne, in the sector between Cor-bency and Juvincourt, and more spirited firing on the right bank of the Meuse, in the region of Hezonvaux," says to-day's War Office report.

"Patrol encounters occurred in Upper Alsace, near Amstutz-le-Bas. The French took prisoners."

POLICE USE CLUBS
TO QUELL RIOT AT
RUSSIAN MEETING

Bolshevik Precipitates Bedlam at Convention in Open Attack on U. S. Government.

The All-Russian Convention in Arlington Hall, No. 17 St. Mark's Place, was marked to-day by the renewal of the clash with the representatives of the Bolsheviks which raged all day yesterday.

The trouble started in the midst of a discussion on legal aid to Russians in this country, and the storm broke when Elias Rosenthal, a lawyer of this city, attempted to make a defense of the United States Draft Law.

A Bolshevik in the gallery arose to denounce the convention, when Policeman Edward Morris, in uniform, swooped down upon the offending representative, at which the row became general. The policeman used his club before the riot was suppressed. Previous to Rosenthal's talk M. Pukeshko of Brownsville had attacked the War Department, declaring that Russians who had not been naturalized were being drafted.

President Semenovskiy of the convention called the speaker to order several times and informed him there was no such law in the United States, and that there had not been any irregularities in the Draft Law by intention. But the speaker kept right on and his language found great favor with the gallery, although he was not a member of the Bolsheviks.

Lawyer Rosenthal followed on the lines of the president until he was interrupted by a man in the gallery who shouted: "You're a liar!" It was then the policeman took a hand and the row was started.

Shortly after this news reached the convention that Russia had withdrawn from the war and had ordered the demobilization of the Russian Army. The convention leaders were astonished and expressed the belief that the statement was a ruse sent out by Germany.

GOVERNMENT WITNESS AIDS
DEFENSE IN TREASON TRIAL

Says Hennig Often Called Attention to Defective Gyro Parts Passed by Federal Inspectors.

HENNA R. Pausin, who was a witness last week for the Government in the trial of Paul Hennig, former foreman of the E. W. Bliss Works, for treason, was to-day a witness for the defense.

Attorney Wine brought from him an admission that the defective gyroscopic parts in evidence could have been used without harm to the efficiency of a torpedo.

The witness said Lieut. Shea, who brought the charges against Hennig, had instructed him to discharge the Jordan and then told him not to until they had "more on him." Pausin said he had protested to Lieut.
Shea against destroying the ninety-six gyroscopic parts thrown into the scrap box. He said Hennig had called attention many times to defective parts after they had been passed by both the inspection shop and by the Government.

BOARDS READY TO ENFORCE LIMIT ON FOREIGN TRADE

Existing Bureaus to Co-operate in Control When President Orders License System.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—President Wilson's proclamation, to be issued Monday, putting the country's entire foreign trade under license, is expected to be followed immediately by institution of a system of control without delay in setting up an organization. The Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, the Shipping Board and War Trade Board will co-operate in the work.
Dr. Julius Klein will be the bureau's representative in the division of planning recently created by the Shipping Board under direction of Dean Gay of Harvard.

While control of imports will cut down some business, it is said authoritatively that there is no intention of needlessly harming foreign trade. Where curtailment of imports would affect any industry disastrously representatives of the trade will be given a hearing.

One important result of the licensing system is expected to be an impetus to the building up of ships, especially by navies.
